

BHIKSU UNIVERSITY OF SRI LANKA

INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE UNIT

Operating Guidance for Internal Quality Assurance Cells of Bhiksu University of Sri Lanka

1. Introduction

The Bhiksu University of Sri Lanka is devoted to produce traditional, versatile Theravada scholars who are endowed with textual pragmatic knowledge of the Dhamma with knowledge on Buddhist Philosophy and Eastern and Western languages by ensuring students' excellence learning outcomes and enhanced educational opportunities.

The quality assurance system aims to safeguard the standards of the academic quality and quality with the Quality Assurance & Accreditation Framework of Sri Lankan universities and Higher Education Institutes. For this purpose, each university needs an Internal Quality Assurance Unit (IQAU) at University level and each Faculty of study of the University, Units and Sections should establish an Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) to supervise its Internal Quality Assurance (QA) activities under the direction and in collaboration with the IQAU.

This document outlines the underlying principles, the composition, functions and reporting requirements of an IQAC of the Bhiksu University of Sri Lanka with the objective of serving as a guideline for the operation of an IQAC.

2. Principles

2.1 The IQAC of a faculty, Units and Administrative sections should operate based on the following broad principles:

- Implementation of a holistic approach and integrate academic, academic support and administrative activities of the Faculty to ensure fulfilment of the required academic and professional standards.
- Preparation of the faculty for external institutional review.
- Identify and appreciation of the variety of disciplines areas offered by the Faculty.

- Producing recommendations to enhance the quality of the academic works / administrative works of the faculty, units or administrative sections via relying on multiple methods and perspectives.
- Promotion of open-minded discussion among the academic, academic support and administrative staff to enhance confidence on QA and create team-spirit in carrying out QA related activities.
- Adoption of an evidence-based approach to QA with a focus on continuous upgrading of academic and administrative activities of the University.

3. Composition

Composition of the IQAC is decided by the Council on the request of the Director of the IQAU. Each Faculty or unit of study and administrative sections can decide the composition of the IQAC based on its structure and the nature of activities to be carried out and request to the IQAU. This cell should be represented by a member from each department of study/unit/board of study of a Faculty. Considering the type of activities that should be undertaken by an IQAC, it is recommended to appoint a responsible mid-senior level member from each Department of study/unit to oversee and guide its QA activities. One member of the IQAC should be appointed as its coordinator on consensus of the membership by taking into account the seniority and experience in QA related matters.
